CHIN 2202

Intermediate Chinese II, 5 Credits

This is the second semester of the second-year sequence in Mandarin Chinese. This course aims at increased proficiency in comprehension, spoken production, reading, writing, and translation. Emphasis is on understanding Chinese grammar and syntax as well as the unique cultural patterns of China that contribute to more effective communication. A wider range of readings, more writing and translation exercises, and increased use of the radical dictionary, audio/visual materials, and Chinese-language software are essential parts of the course. Specific goals include recognizing 1,000 Chinese characters (emphasis moves from traditional to simplified forms), writing 450-600 of them, and recognizing and using 1,200-1,600 vocabulary words.

This is a hybrid course, with 2 classroom and 3 online (D2L) hours. Students may choose either the day or evening section for the classroom hours. Students must have access to the Internet (at home, in IHCC library, etc.) and open a free IHCC D2L account.

This course can be used to satisfy the following requirements in Inver Hills Community College degree programs.
